

POSITION TITLE: US Humanities in Spanish Teacher

TYPE OF POSITION: Local Hire

AREA / DIVISION: Upper School

JOB OVERVIEW

We are seeking an innovative and collaborative Humanities in Spanish Teacher with interest in teaching Mexican National Curriculum (both SEP and UNAM) across multiple disciplines, with a focus on Mexican Law and possibly including Mexican History, Geography, and Philosophy. The ideal candidate will be passionate about guiding students to think critically, communicate effectively, and engage meaningfully with diverse perspectives and ideas.

EDUCATION, QUALIFICATIONS AND PRIOR EXPERIENCE REQUIRED

- Bachelor's degree in History, Humanities, Education, or a related field.
- Applicants with a law degree are preferred, though it is not required.
- Valid teaching certification/license or equivalent credentials.
- Experience teaching high school Humanities courses in SEP or UNAM contexts.
- Strong understanding of inquiry-based and interdisciplinary teaching approaches.
- Excellent communication, collaboration, and classroom management skills.
- Commitment to fostering an inclusive and respectful learning environment.
- English proficiency level of CEFR B2 or higher.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Design and deliver engaging, inquiry-based lessons in one or more of the following areas: Mexican History, Mexican Law, Geography, and/or Philosophy.
- Foster critical thinking, research, and writing skills through project-based learning, discussions, and authentic assessments.
- Collaborate with colleagues to ensure alignment with SEP, UNAM, and school-wide learning objectives.
- Differentiate instruction to meet the needs of diverse learners, including advanced and struggling students.
- Integrate technology and multimedia resources to enhance the learning experience.
- Provide constructive feedback on student work, encouraging both academic growth and intellectual curiosity.

- Participate actively in departmental, grade-level, and school-wide initiatives, including curriculum development.
- Serve as an advisor or mentor to students, contributing to their academic and personal development.
- Maintain open and professional communication with parents, guardians, and colleagues.

SKILLS:

- Experience with or willingness to learn about American education systems, Advanced Placement and the IB framework.
- Demonstrated ability to integrate primary and secondary sources, real-world issues, and cross-curricular connections.
- Passion for mentoring students in research, analysis, and presentation skills.
- Flexibility and enthusiasm for teaching across multiple subject areas within the humanities.
